

We are preparing for a key stage in our Creag Dhubh substation project, with the delivery of two new Super Grid Transformers taking place between Sunday 7 and Thursday 18 June.

These deliveries are an important step in strengthening the local electricity network. They will help ensure a safe and reliable supply of power and support the growth of renewable energy across Argyll and beyond.

What you may notice

Overnight transport of large equipment along sections of the A82

Police Scotland escorts and traffic management in place

Temporary road closures and traffic lights at key points on the route

Key delivery dates

Sunday 7 June and Tuesday 9 June

Tuesday 16 June and Thursday 18 June

Where possible, movements will take place overnight to reduce disruption.

We understand this activity may cause some temporary disruption and we are working closely with transport partners to minimise impacts and keep everyone safe.

We thank the local community and road users for their patience and understanding while these essential deliveries take place.
